

FARM SPEED-UP PROGRAM MAPPED BY GOVERNMENT; ALL-TIME RECORD SOUGHT

Secretary of Agriculture C. R. Wickard this week announced a 1942 farm program calling for all-time record production to "improve nutrition in this country and meet the needs of nations that will stand between this country and Hitler."

Wickard sharply reversed the New Deal farm program that has sought reduced production of most crops. He called now for "a complete mobilization of American agriculture to adjust production to domestic needs for national defense and to the needs of nations resisting aggression."

"The goals for 1942 call for the largest production in the history of American agriculture, but we are not going to have to plow up the hills and the plains to get it," Wickard said. "We have adequate reserves of feed grains for increased production of livestock products and it will not be necessary materially to increase total crop acreage next year."

The program emphasizes increased production of hogs, eggs, evaporated milk, dry skim milk, cheese and chickens—products most vitally needed by the British, as well as American consumers engaged in all-out defense production.

The program calls for unlimited sugar production, nearly double peanut production, slightly increased acreage of corn and other feed crops, more soybeans and potatoes, and 1,329,000 more home gardens.

Wheat production would be reduced 15 to 20 percent below this year's, in view of the large surplus on hand and lack of export demand for American wheat. Cotton acreage would be about the same as this year. "For the first time in the history of agriculture in this country production goals for all essential commodities have been established," Wickard said. "They have been established on the basis of a thorough canvass of the needs for improved nutrition in this country and the needs of the nations that still stand between this country and Hitler."

"Every farmer in the United States will be contacted by local farmer committees and will assist with individual farm plans to determine the extent to which each farm can contribute to agriculture's task in national defense."

Production goals and the part which agriculture will be called upon to play in the defense effort will be discussed with farm leaders in four regional agricultural defense conferences scheduled for Salt Lake City Sept. 15 and 16; Chicago, Sept. 18 and 19; New York City, Sept. 24 and 25; and Memphis, Sept. 29 and 30.

Announcement of the 1942 program was made in compliance with an amendment to the farm law passed in June by congress, requiring that "whenever during the existing emergency the secretary of agriculture finds it necessary to encourage the expansion

Expenditures Of Minster Schools For Year Listed

Estimated Total Outlay For Year 1942 Is $40,460 Budget Reveals

Treasury Balance To Offset Deficit However—Jackson Special Figures Given

Budgets for three Auglaize county school districts, listing anticipated receipts and contemplated expenditures for 1942, were on file with Auditor H. O. Katterhenry this week awaiting approval by the county budget commission. The Minster village school district listed contemplated expenditures of $40,460, as compared with receipts estimated at $36,460, according to the budget filed by Harry Lehmkuhl, clerk of the village board of education. However, a $4,000 balance is anticipated at the beginning of the year, which will cover the deficit, but leave no balance.

The estimated expenditures include administration, $1,500; instruction, $24,000; and transportation, $6,025.

Jackson special district, one of the smallest in the county, expects to start this year with a balance of $1,044.85 to cover the deficit to be incurred in estimated expenditures of $2,400 as compared to receipts amounting to $1,900, according to the budget filed by Edward J. Heitkamp, clerk.

The receipts include $1,300 from general property taxation, and $600 from the state school foundation program. Expenditures estimated include, administration, $200; instruction, $1,300; transportation, $400, and operation and maintenance of school $500. The anticipated balance at the close of the year was set at $1,144.85.

The United rural district, which operates schools at St. Johns and Uniopolis and does not share in the distribution of funds from the state school foundation program, anticipates $23,000 in receipts, all to be derived from general property taxation, according to the budget filed by Sue Frazier, clerk. The budget also lists an anticipated balance of $13,398.43 at start of the year.

Estimated expenditures listed in the budget totaled $22,320 and include, administration, $320; instruction, $8,800; transportation, $4,000, and improvements, $2,000.

CANDIDATES ARE LISTED IN MERCER

Candidates for office in villages and townships in Mercer county in the Minster area, subject to the choice of electors on Nov. 4, have been announced as follows:

Chickasaw village: Mayor, Ted Rengers (incumbent) and Louis Eynik; clerk, Ivo Griethop and Leo Vonderhaar; treasurer, A. J. Rengers and Cyril Puthoff; council, Alfred Wein, Julius Niekanp, Joseph Hein, Julius Niekanp, Anthony Heitkamp, Vernon Eynik, A. J. Lechleiter, H. A. Rengers, Roman Rentz, Joseph Mestemaker, William Niekanp, Tony Hartings.

Marion township: Trustee, Frank Boeckman, Fred J. Bohman, John Fortkamp, Joseph Hartke, Louis J. Niekanp, Leo J. Overman; Granville township: trustee, Joseph Hartings, Clarence P. Staehel, John B. Post; justice of the peace, J. T. Wildenhaus.

St. Henry village: Mayor, Lawrence Heitkamp; clerk, A. J. Feldhake; treasurer, Jacob Stein; council, Ben Reiling, Andy Buschor, Joseph Uhlenhake, William J. Wourme; board of public affairs, Frank Feldhake, A. J. Davis, H. H. Fealy. For board of education: Carthagena school district, Charles J. Link, Ben Meier; Cassella district, Clarence Dirksen, William Hartings, Leo Bertke, long

MONEY INCOME IS UP FOR DAIRY FARMER; HIGHEST PRICES IN DECADE NOTED

Keen competition for the nation's record milk production is giving America's dairy farmer the highest cash income in more than 10 years as well as boosting wholesale prices of dairy products to the highest level the consumer has seen in four years or longer.

Manufacturers of cheese, butter, condensed and evaporated milk, and fluid bottlers, are competing on a high basis for milk and butterfat to meet the best export demand since the World War and a greatly improved domestic consumptive demand.

At the outset of the lend-lease program in March the government asked for increased diversion of milk from butter to condenseries and cheese factories to make possible large shipments of cheese and canned milk to England. Although diversion is increasing, butter production is at a record level and the government reports the output of evaporated milk and American cheese—also at record level—is not great enough to meet all requirements.

Production figures for the first seven months of the year with comparisons of the chief manufactured milk products in number of pounds are:

1941	1940
Evaporated milk 1,787,821,000	1,592,043,000
Condensed milk 62,058,000	30,541,000
American cheese 405,560,000	360,925,000
Butter 1,207,030,000	1,131,314,000

DISABLED VETS NAME OFFICERS

Ferd F. Eversman, New Knoxville, was elected commander of Auglaize County Chapter 75, Disabled Veterans of the World War, at the annual meeting. He succeeds Dan McKeever of Wapakoneta, who has been appointed commander of the third district, embracing 15 northwestern Ohio chapters.

Other new officers of the Auglaize County chapter, who will be installed in the G. A. R. rooms at the courthouse Wednesday evening, Sept. 17, by Merit Garm of Fremont, the new state commander are: John L. Young, St. Marys; senior vice commander; Fred Wellman, New Knoxville; junior vice commander; and Norbert Gouly, Wapakoneta, treasurer. Other officers are appointive.

The Auglaize county chapter has a membership of 32 veterans out of approximately 100 men who are eligible by reason of disability incurred in service.

FARM BUILDINGS DAMAGED BY GALE

Mounting property losses were reported this week from farming sections southwest of Minster, following the wind and rain storm that swept this section of the state Tuesday night.

A sheep barn was toppled and several head of sheep reported killed on the Ed Baltes farm in Frenchtown. On the John Connaughton farm in the same community a stock barn was blown down, and the debris blocked traffic on a highway.

A silo was reported demolished by the wind on the L. H. Riemiller farm in the Frenchtown area, while at the Dora Barga place a chicken house was blown down and several windows in the residence broken.

term, and Peter Ranly and Frank Goettemoeller, short term; Chickasaw, John B. Knapke, Anthony B. Bills; St. Henry, Luke Beckman, Julius R. Bruns, Jerome H. Gels; St. John (Maria Stein), Leo B. Hausfeld, Richard Pohlmann, William Nagel; Wendelin, Henry Heuing, Lawrence J. Brunswick; St. Rose, Albert Evers, Victor Homan, Aloys Meier, long term, and Anthony Schoenlein and John H. Hartings, short term.

The dairy farmer's cash milk income for the first six months of 1941 is estimated at $888,000,000, the highest in more than 10 years and 18 percent more than in the same period of 1940. Butter producers, for example, in mid-July paid the dairy farmer 36.6 cents a pound for his butterfat compared with 29.5 cents a year ago; condenseries paid him $1.75 a hundredweight for milk compared with $1.27 a year ago; cheese producers were reported paying about the same price as condenseries, and city milk bottlers were paying him $2.30 a hundredweight against $2.18 a year ago.

The consumer, however, is paying sharply higher prices than a year ago for butter, cheese, evaporated and condensed milk.

American cheese on the Plymouth, Wis., exchange, is 25½ cents a pound, the highest in 13 years and compares with 13½ cents a year ago; cash butter on the Chicago Merchandise Exchange is being quoted at 36 cents a pound, within a cent of the highest peak since 1937 and compares with 27½ cents a year ago; the average manufacturers' domestic selling price of condensed milk by the case in mid-July was $6.20 compared with $4.80 a year ago and for evaporated milk $3.42 a case compared with $2.85 a year ago, both the highest price in six years or more.

Two Candidates Announce For Mayoralty Here

Harry Gephart Will Oppose Mayor Edmund Morsey In November

TWO SEEK CLERK JOB

Maurice Bernhold Will Run Opposing Alfred Fischer Who Now Holds Office

Two contests for village office will be decided at the election Nov. 4; it was revealed Thursday following approval by the Auglaize county board of elections of petitions of candidacy bearing the names of more than 300 persons.

Mayor Edmund F. Morsey will be opposed in his quest for reelection by Harry Gephart, former marshal and street commissioner, and Alfred B. Fischer, present village clerk, will have as his opponent Maurice B. Bernhold, former deputy in the Auglaize county treasurer's office.

At least two new faces will be seen in council seats after the election is decided, since two present members of the village legislative group, W. J. Horkenhoff and Charles Ahms, are not candidates for reelection. Petitions of the following were approved for the council race: Louis C. Heckman, Joseph Schemmel, Robert C. Schmieder, Maurice Schulte, Albert H. Segger, Vernon Sommer and Vernon Gudorf.

George Buss is unopposed for reelection as treasurer. Candidates for the board of public affairs are Carl J. Schmieder and J. H. Schworer, with three to be elected. C. F. Eiting and Oscar Rutmann, now serving on the board, are not asking reelection.

There will be no election for constable in November. A new state law provides for appointment of the constable-police chief by the mayor, subject to approval of the council, after the term of the constable expires next January. The appointee will serve a six-month probationary term, after which he will hold office permanently and can be removed only by cause.

Robert Bensman, Ferd Boekrath and Joseph Thieman are candidates for trustee of Jackson township. Two are to be elected, for four-year terms. Mr. Bensman is now serving on the board. No township clerk will be elected.

With three to be elected, there are three candidates for membership on the board of the Minster village school district. They are Louis Haying, Lawrence F. Naber and John Frenger Jr. All three are present board members. Other school board candidates in this community are: Jackson township No. 2 district, three to be elected: Vincent Bornhorst, Clem Poepelman and Anthony Schmiesing.

Jackson township Special, three to be elected: Edward Bruns, Fred Clune, Alphons Wolters. German township Special, two to be elected: Emil H. Bruggeman, Henry Wittenbrink. New Knoxville: three to elect, Florenz Elshoff, Walter A. Kuek, Harry Meckstroth, Henry Opperman, Ewald Schroer, Ferd Wellman.

For trustee, German township: William Schow, Emil Vornholt and John Zahn. For Washington township trustee: Walter B. Kuek, Edward J. Niemeyer, Herman Stroth and Reuben Wierwille.

The first varnish approximating our present day composition is said to have been produced by the French in the Seventeenth century.

fliers will be there to thrill the spectators.

The entire village is assisting in the promotion and preparing to handle thousands of visitors expected to witness the air program.

District K. Of C's To Meet In Minster

Knights To Gather In Lodge Hall To Hear State Deputy Thursday Night

Officers and members of the Knights of Columbus from the several counties in the 20th district will gather in the Minster lodge rooms at 8:30 p. m. on Thursday of this week, to hear an address by State Deputy James P. Lavoy of Milan.

Fred J. Behrens, superintendent of schools of Minster, who recently was appointed district deputy succeeding Paul Gasson of Versailles, also will be heard. Mr. Lavoy will outline in his talk the five-point program of progress, which it is claimed has shown tangible returns to state and subordinate councils which have been operated under it since 1936. Under the plan each council organizes five committees to develop and supervise projects under the five points, namely: Catholic activity, council program, insurance, publicity and membership.

General Insurance Agent Wells will be present at the meeting and will explain recent changes in the insurance system.

Russell Hangen, clerk. The contemplated expenditures include, general, $1,900; cemeteries, $250, and poor relief, medical and burial, $300.

A $534.43 balance is estimated for the district at the start of the year. This with $2,075.04 in receipts will leave the balance at the close of the year at $159.47. Included in receipts are $1,600 from general property tax; $200 from sales tax; $200 from liquor permits; $20 from inheritance taxes, and $30 in refunds.

A total of $4,500 in receipts is expected for the township's road and bridge fund which is expected to have a $1,040.37 balance at the start of the year. Expenditures from the fund are estimated at $5,000, leaving an anticipated balance of $540.37 at the close of the period.

The district's gasoline tax fund is expected to start with a $655.01 balance and receipts are estimated at $2,600. Expenditures of $2,500 are contemplated to leave a closing balance of $755.01. Goshen township is the only

M'KENNA SERVICES HELD IN MINSTER

Funeral services were held in the St. Augustine church here Wednesday morning for John C. McKenna, 66, who was found dead Saturday night in his apartment at New Bremen. After the services the funeral procession moved to New Bremen, where burial was made in the German Protestant cemetery.

Mr. McKenna was found lying on the kitchen floor, his head lacerated where it apparently struck the kitchen stove in a fall. Physicians expressed belief that the man suffered a stroke which caused him to fall.

Born at New Madison, Ind., in 1875, he married Wilhelmina Boesel of New Bremen. She died in 1938. His only survivors are a sister, Mrs. Thomas Dunbar of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a brother, Thomas McKenna, of Madison, Ind.

TEACHER INJURED

Miss Gladys Anderson, Chickasaw grade school teacher, sustained cuts on one leg in an automobile mishap that occurred when she was enroute to take charge of her class Wednesday morning. Her coupe automobile skidded on a damp black-top road, rolled over into a ditch and was badly wrecked. She was able to take charge of her school room after first aid treatment.

district of the five which lists receipts to exceed expenditures, according to the budget filed by E. Thomas Haggard, clerk. Receipts were listed at $2,015 and expenditures at $2,005. The balance at the start of the year was set at $36.63.

Included in receipts are $1,500 from general property taxes; $200 from sales tax; $200 from liquor permits; $15 from cigarette tax, and $100 from other sources. The contemplated expenditures include, general, $925; cemeteries, $705; lighting, $175, and poor relief, medical and burial, $200.

No receipts or expenditures were listed for the township's road and bridge fund which has a balance of $40.11. Receipts for the gasoline tax fund were estimated at $2,400 and expenditures at $2,500, which will decrease the present balance of $635.04 by $100.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I—The stranger who fixes the flat on Kathleen Maguire's car tells her he is a newspaper man, like her father, editor of the Covington daily and mayor of the town. "I think you owe me this," he says, and kisses her.

CHAPTER II—Laura Maguire, Kathleen's mother, is preparing for a dinner for the Newsoms. Shirley, older sister of Kathleen's, is engaged to Laird Newsum.

CHAPTER III—Laird is out of work since his father gave up the factory to stop losses and his marriage to Shirley seems far off.

CHAPTER IV—Mrs. Newsom hopes Laird will win Shirley for Good. Mary Etta, daughter of the town banker, first of the guests to arrive at Tom, oldest son of Laird's mother, is present with Myra, Laura's daughter.

CHAPTER V—The depression has ruined Tom's real estate business but his wife has a good job as secretary. Mike Maguire, head of the town bank, is in the Graham, the young man who fixed Kathleen's car.

CHAPTER VI—Alec Maguire, younger brother, out of a job, fails to show up for the dinner. Ritchie Ritchie, Kathleen's cousin, goes to dancing after dinner.

CHAPTER VII—To get Ritchie in the mood Kathleen accepts the invitation of Gene Mays to go dancing after dinner.

CHAPTER VIII—Gene's overbearing attitude that he is irresistible, is irritating to Kathleen. Alec is present with Myra, wealthy, flashy blonde.

CHAPTER IX—Alec, egged on by Myra, makes a date with Lou Knight, daughter of the town drunkard. Frightened by Kathleen, Alec realizes he must keep the date.

CHAPTER X—Alec takes Lou to the movies and she is highly flattered.

CHAPTER XI—Kathleen is deeply concerned with the problem of the rest of her family.

CHAPTER XII—Tom Maguire leaves his wife to live on what he can make.

CHAPTER XIII—Ritchie Graham goes to work for Mike Maguire, where Kathleen is society editor. Mike lambasts Banker Mays for unscrupulous financing.

CHAPTER XIV—Influenced by Mays, business houses begin canceling their advertising. Kathleen visits Mike and Ritchie's impractical ways.

CHAPTER XV—Kathleen resents the persistent attentions of young Mays.

CHAPTER XVI—Trying to evade the cavernous tactics of Mays, Kathleen narrowly escapes drowning. She is rescued by Ritchie.

CHAPTER XVII—At a fire in the tenement district Alec is the town drunkard, Pete Knight, die rescuing a crippled boy.

"So there you are!" exclaimed Buddy Pryor, bounding in at the street door with the exuberance of a gazelle who had had a dose of hot drops. "I've been combing the town for you. Where on earth did you disappear to last night? Myra was at it to be tied when you never came back."

Alec shrugged. He hated to have Myra and Natalie get onto the Lou angle. So he suffered in silence while Gene Mays explained exactly where Alec had vanished to the night before.

"But, gee," protested Buddy, "you told us she turned you down. And you paid your bets too as if you had lost."

"What bet?" queried Gene who had a nose like an eagle for scents other people would prefer to keep to themselves.

"Myra bet Alec he couldn't make a date with Lou Knight," Buddy explained. "You see, it was all a stunt. Myra didn't think Alec would have the nerve. But I guess he was drunker than he looked."

Gene Mays laughed. "So that's why the new girl friend," he accused Alec. "Your blonde lady picked the worst little suggin in town and dared you to phone her. And you were full enough of giggle water to call her bluff."

"Yes," said Alec in a strangled voice. "That's exactly how it was. He heard a little gasp and whirled sharply. Lou Knight stood in the rear of the store waiting for a package which the druggist was wrapping up for her. Her face was inverted. Alec could see only her profile and a quivering little chin. But of course he had heard. And once she had thought him wonderful. Lou clutched her purchase and without turning her head stumbled out into the blazing sun of the side street.

CHAPTER XV
Laura was sitting flat on the floor in the living room watching a worn place in the big Axminster rug when Tom came softly through the open folding doors from the boxlike front hall.

She assumed that he had had to make a business trip to Covington for his firm as he sometimes did. Only as she scrambled to her feet she saw first the ghastly shadows under his hazel eyes and next the suitcase which he gripped in his left hand.

"Tom!" she whispered, her voice trailing off into a tremble in spite of herself. "You don't mean—" she began, but she couldn't go on.

Tom nodded curtly. "Myra Etta and I are all washed up."

"Tom!"
"She loves her job and her efficiency apartment and the new car far more, I guess, than she ever loved me. Anyway she wouldn't think of giving them up for me or any other man. She was willing to pay my way since I don't seem to be very good at that myself. But I couldn't see it. I offered her an alternative. A pretty shabby one, I admit. But she wasn't interested."

and so," he spread his hands, "blow it away, a young dream—or is it a nightmare?"
Laura could have wept. She was not deceived by Tom's laconic manner. He was terribly thin-skinned emotionally. She knew she had to tread delicately. And she prayed for tact.

"Darling," she said very gently, "pride is a cruel master, and the rewards seldom equal the punishment."

"I know," he said bleakly, but his mouth did not lose its difficult line.

"You love Mary Etta. She is your wife. And marriage, happy marriages, are always a matter of compromise. You give and takes."

"I know," he said again and added bitterly, "It's also what that Frenchman said, a mirror. In which one loves and the other merely reflects his love."

"Tom, I'm sure Mary Etta cares for you."

"You say that because you think I want to hear that. But you are wrong. Mother. And I've been a fool not to know it long ago. Mary Etta must have had some affection for me once or she would never have thrown in her lot with mine. But you see, she is true most of all to herself. And I've let her down badly. She admires successful men who kick their way up in the world by the sheer drive of their ruthless personalities. She couldn't respect any man if she paid his bills. Knowing she merely tolerated me while at the same time her money kept us going. I had to go. For her sake and mine. I'm going in with Colonel Shup. He's offered me fifty a month and commissions if there are any. Mary Etta and I could live on that in Covington. I gave her the choice. She refused. And so here I am. Only—my hazel eyes were feverish—" "God's sake, keep the others off me. I don't believe I could bear a lot of damn fool questions right now. Tell them the truth if you like, that we've made a hash of whatever happiness we might have had and are through. I don't want to be a burden to talk about it even to you."

Laura's hand rested on his shoulder which quivered under her touch.

"All right," she said quietly, "if that's the way you want it."

He squeezed her hand gratefully and then, picking up the suitcase, rapidly mounted the staircase to the back room with sloping eaves which he had shared for years with Alec.

Kathleen came home from the office at four that afternoon in anything but a happy mood. It had been one of those days when everything tangled itself up unpleasantly. Mike's frays with Banker Mays had left his daughter both nettled and uneasy. Then there was Ritchie Graham. Kathleen admitted that from the first he had been a source of an unreasonable amount of exasperation to her.

Ruth Yates was throwing a swimming party that evening at the new Porterville pool. And Hot Shot Mays had called Kathleen at the office to say he'd pick her up at home at a quarter to five. Kathleen who felt as if she had been used to strike matches on all day found the idea of a plunge very edifying. And that had little to do with the fact that it was one of those sultry May afternoons which borrow the languor from June. It had even given her a disproportionate thrill to tell Gene Mays she was just living to see him again—this in a voice loud enough for Ritchie's ears, although he merely grimaced.

Nevertheless Kathleen had felt in a way revenged. And then as she spelled everything. She was one of those saccharine persons whose mission in life is to sated sweetness. She cooed like a mourning dove at every opportunity and was quite pretty in a soft, fluttery, ash-blond way. Her elders said she had a beautiful nature. But she was apt to clasp it taken in steady doses. For that reason Ruth was always avidly interested in the appearance of a new man in town. And somewhere she heard about Ritchie Graham. She promptly telephoned Kathleen and insisted that he be added to the party.

All things considered Kathleen arrived home practically ready to throw things. Laura was lying down with a touch of headache or so she had given out. But when Kathleen heard about Tom she surmised that her mother had gone to bed of a heavy heart. Privately Kathleen thought her brother was well rid of an unpleasant incubus.

To Kathleen's surprise Shirley was also going to the swimming party. They didn't usually run in the same crowd except at very large affairs to which the whole town was invited. But Shirley gave the show away when Kathleen in all innocence asked if they couldn't all four go together. Away from Ritchie, Kathleen was not at all anxious to be alone with Gene Mays.

"Sorry," said Shirley evenly, "but Connie Mays asked us to ride over with her. Lancia Ferguson."

"I see," said Kathleen, staring fixedly at the red leather belt she was fastening about her.

She did see—a lot. Of course Connie had engineered the whole thing. She had probably refused to go to unless Laird was invited. And Ruth was one of Connie's yes-men. But to get Laird, Shirley had to be included. Only Connie, with her usual brazen disregard for other people's rights, had arranged that too—to her own taste. Ostensibly Lancia was a weak little basket case, was Connie's date. Actually he was being taken along for the ride, as Kathleen knew. And of course so did Shirley, even if she did not breathe out fire and brimstone as Kathleen would have done.

In the end they went off with their respective swains, Shirley first. Both Kathleen and Laura noticed that Connie had waited till the last to collect the second girl. And when her smart car disappeared, she was driving as she usually did with one hand, while she faced the back seat across the aisle. She was having a thoughtful conversation with a rather silent Laird and a totally silent Shirley.

Hot Shot Mays drove up almost before his sister's dust had settled. He was in a terrific hurry to be on his way. He did not bother to exercise his famous charm on Laura. It was not necessary with most mothers. As a rule they were overwhelmed on his side. Laura knew he would always be like that. Unnecessarily brusque unless forced to be otherwise. But Kathleen for once missed the little telltale pucker between Laura's eyes. Kathleen had worries of her own.

Gene Mays was a bit overpowering. There was no getting around that. He had a smooth way about him when he strove to please. And he had every intention of pleasing Kathleen. She baffled him a little. Other girls struggled to impress him in a big way. Kathleen reversed the process. It was a new experience for Hot Shot Mays to sit in the uncertain seat. Kathleen even laughed when he laid out what he called "heavy sugar."

"Maybe I'm boring you," he said at the end of twenty miles, when he seemed to have got no farther fast with his campaign.

"Maybe," agreed Kathleen and smiled.

By the time they reached their destination Gene Mays felt a little like a dirigible in a high wind, and Kathleen's equanimity was somewhat restored. She might not have made any point on Ritchie Graham's consciousness, but she had Hot Shot Mays doing acrobatics against his will. He was a bit bluff as a menace to female hearts, or so it seemed to Kathleen. She had him pawing the air and she could grin at his best efforts. She felt perfectly the master of the situation and decidedly cocky and pleased with herself.

CHAPTER XVI

The new Porterville Swimming Pool was ideally situated on the edge of town in a ravine between two fern-clad hills. There were sixty acres of wooded grounds, a huge outdoor lake fed by springs, a number of rustic dressing huts and the usual diving boards, floats and soft drink stands. But the big dining room, like the dancing pavilion, was more impressive than effective. The food tasted as the mechanical orchestra sounded, a bit tinny.

"Any way," as Ruth brightly explained while Ritchie was helping her unload hampers and thermos jugs, "it's so primitive to eat out under the trees, don't you think?"

"Absolutely," he agreed.

Kathleen darted him a glance. Ruthie was going strong in her own sweet way. But Ritchie appeared to like his flattery rank. If he was even aware that she was hanging around the outskirts, he concealed it. Shirley was helping Ruth collect the various catables in a sheltered spot. But Connie Mays never put herself to such inconveniences.

"I'll bet you a kiss, Laird, that I beat you into the water," she challenged.

"Say," growled Hot Shot Mays, "did you come out here to swim or what? I'm hot as two freerackers."

"Come on, Hot Shot," cried Kathleen crossly, slinging her bathing

"You sort of make a feller pin his ears back in that outfit," said Hot Shot Mays.

suit over her shoulder, "how's for getting dressed? And don't be all day about it, Tarzan."

When she emerged in her brief one-piece white suit, a scarlet bandana about her head, Hot Shot was waiting for her at the diving platform, but Laird and Connie were already in the water.

"You sort of make a feller pin his ears back in that outfit," said Hot Shot Mays as his hard blue eyes traveled over Kathleen's lithe young body. "Listen, Baby, if I was staging beauty contests you could be Miss Universe."

"But you aren't," Kathleen made a beautiful flip-flop in the air for a perfect landing.

He dived after her, hitting the water a split second later. But he failed to overtake her before she crawled up on the raft between Laird and Connie. The latter looked distinctly annoyed at the intrusion, which did not afflict Kathleen. She even enjoyed it and thought she might stay where she was till Shirley joined them. But Gene Mays had other ideas. He dragged Kathleen off her perch although she fought him like a tigress and sent her to the bottom, clawing and scratching. He howled with mirth when she came up choked and breathless. He managed to pinch her thigh, for which she boxed his ears. But there was no peace from him except to keep swimming just out of his reach. And that was a little wearying.

"The big stuff," she thought angrily, aware of a catch in her side as she dodged one of his sideways.

Laird swam in to shore to meet Shirley while Connie glowered. It looked as if Ruth was going to get into the water at last. Ritchie was already in his suit and lounging on the end of the pier waiting for her, a cigarette in his mouth. Kathleen paused long enough in her hectic flight from Gene Mays' covetous tactics to observe that Ritchie looked provokingly handsome in his black jersey. She felt she could bear him better if just once he showed to a disadvantage. Hot Shot Mays seized upon her momentary preoccupation with another man to push her head under water until her lungs caught fire. The catch in her side was more pronounced when she again took to flight.

FINAL RACES SET AT GREENVILLE

George Witzman, a product of the 1940 edition of the CSRA Michigan Class C circuit, has gone far in just one season of racing. Starting a year ago driving rather inferior cars in a minor league circuit, Witzman broke into the big time early this spring and immediately made a hit with the fans by his sheer daring and driving technique that has already earned him prize money in four figures at Greenville Motor Speedway's three previous races held this year. He now ranks sixth in the current CSRA national driving standings and with an addition of extra points at Greenville on Sept. 14 his standing is bound to be even higher.

Witzman, if his past performances can be used as a criterion, should be among the four cars qualifying for the Australian Pursuit race, headline handicap even on the six-race card here Sept. 14. If he qualifies for this event then Witzman will be the most feared man in the race since his daring is unexcelled and it will take plenty of fortune to come out victor in this unusual race where the four fastest cars of the field qualify and the slowest of the four is given a three-quarter lap handicap over the fastest car.

Besides the Australian Pursuit of 15 laps there will be 60 more laps of fine competition in two ten-lap reversed start races, and two 10-lap dashes from conventional starts capped off with a 20-lap feature.

There are about 2,000,000 Italians in South America.

Wickard said that in accordance with that law the agriculture department, through loan purchases or other operations, will support the prices of eggs, evaporated and dry milk, milk, cheese and chickens at not less than 85 percent of parity until Dec. 31, 1942.
The program establishes a 1942 goal of 125,000,000 pounds of milk, compared with 116,809,000,000 pounds. Production of eggs would be increased from 3,676,000,000 dozen to 4,000,000,000, dozen.

Band Benefit Event To Be Held Sunday

Entertainment Galore Is On Program--Musicians To Don New Uniforms

A big "Boost Your Band" picnic is being arranged for next Sunday afternoon and evening in Bender's park. The Ft. Loramie band, led by the majorettes attired in their natty new uniforms of white and gold, will parade and entertain throughout the day. In the park there will be dancing, all sorts of amusements and refreshments. The entire proceeds will go toward the band uniform fund.

Residents of Fort Loramie were given a real treat Monday at the noon hour when the band and majorettes paraded through the business section to give citizens a "preview" of the new outfits. The entire group will make two appearances at the Shelby county fair this week. Every civic-minded citizen should turn out Sunday and help along in this worthwhile cause. Fort Loramie has a nifty band, and its members look great in their new uniforms.

Two Loramie Girls Take Vows As Nuns

Daughters of H. J. Borchers Advance In Religious Life At Ceremony Monday

Fifteen young women, including two from Fort Loramie and several from other communities in this section, members of the Sisters of the Poor of St. Francis, were advanced in their religious life at ceremonies held at St. Clare's convent, Hartwell, Cincinnati, Monday.

Six postulants were invested with the garb of their congregation, five took perpetual vows, and four novices took first vows, during ceremonies which began at 8:30 a. m., with a mass service offered by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Raphael J. Markham, Episcopal representative for religious in the Cincinnati diocese.

The Rev. Francis S. Smith, member of the faculty of the Mt. St. Mary seminary, Norwood, was master of ceremonies. The Rev. Howard Bishop of the Home Missioners of America preached the sermon.

Names of the postulants invested with the garb are Misses Frances Borchers, Dolores Huber, Marie Schaefer, Helen Ferdman and Geneva Heitkamp.

Miss Borchers is the daughter of Henry J. Borchers residing west of Fort Loramie. She is a sister of Sister Margaret Mary, who took her final vows at the same ceremonies. The Rev. Clemens Borchers of the Home Missioners of America is her brother.

Miss Huber is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Huber, of the St. Aloysius church parish, Carthage, Mo.

Miss Schaefer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Schaefer, of the St. Sebastian church, St. Sebastian.

Miss Heitkamp is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clemens Heitkamp, member of St. Mary's parish, Dayton.

Miss Valcheff is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Valcheff of the Christ the King parish, Hyde Park, Cincinnati.

Miss Ferdman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Ferdman, of the St. Anthony parish, Dayton.

One of the five sisters who took perpetual vows was Sister Margaret Mary Borchers, a former member of the St. Michael parish here and a daughter of Henry J. Borchers.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hampel of Dayton visited Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George Kirner and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schulze and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Oldiges motored to Columbus Saturday to visit until Sunday with relatives.

DEFENSE EFFORT TESTS METTLE OF RAILS AND TRUCKS

CHICAGO,--All-out defense efforts, plus more civilian jobs and faster pay increases, resulted in a 17.3 per cent increase in freight car loadings handled by American railroads in the first six months of 1941, compared with the corresponding period of 1940.

With peak traffic periods still ahead, the increase for the entire year of 1941 over 1940 is expected by some authorities to total at least 8,000,000 carloads.

"Threats of a possible shortage of freight cars later on," says an agricultural bulletin, "make it advisable for farmers to place their orders as soon as possible for supplies such as fertilizers, machinery, etc., that run into tonnage. It should be emphasized that not only railroads, but trucks, as well, are being called on to carry an increasingly heavy traffic load."

"Agriculture is being called on to produce food in larger quantities as part of the defense program. Farmers can accomplish this effectively if their soil is given the benefit of fertility-building plants now they can reduce the strain on the nation's transportation system and assure themselves of adequate quantities later on."

LORAMIE DOWNS HOUSTON MONDAY

The Red and Black clad lads of Fort Loramie high school took a close game from the Houston team at Houston Monday afternoon, by the score of 5 to 4.

One big inning, the fourth, in which the locals scored four of their runs, proved the big attack, although it took another tally in the final inning to decide the issue, since Houston tied it up in its half of the fourth.

The boys from down "66" way made a desperate attempt in their last time at bat, but the Ratermans snagg'd a terrific liner off the bat of Swab, Houston first baseman, and doubled Mills off first.

PLAN STAG PARTY OF BUSINESS MEN

Plans are being formulated by the various committees of the Business Men's Assn. for the first annual stag party of the group to be given Thursday, Sept. 25 at Lindhaus grove. Although a tentative program has been arranged, announcement of final plans will not be made until next week. According to advance ticket sales, the affair is being received with great enthusiasm.

Different Strains of Corn Vary in Feeding Value

Although there's not much difference in the value of hybrid and open-pollinated corn for fattening pigs, there is a wide difference in feeding value between specific strains of corn, whether it is hybrid or open-pollinated, says B. W. Fairbanks, professor of swine husbandry at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

Pigs receiving hybrid corn in 11 experiments conducted at five stations made an average daily gain of 1.49 pounds, compared with 1.40 pounds for open-pollinated. Pigs ate an average of 391 pounds of hybrid corn in making 100 pounds gain, while they ate an average of 394 pounds of open-pollinated for each 100 pounds gain.

However, when different strains of hybrid and open-pollinated corn were fed pigs, more than half a pound gain a pig for each day was observed. The difference was not quite so great when comparing strains of open-pollinated as in the case of hybrid corn.

The difference in feed consumed for each 100 pounds of gain was just as striking when the strains were compared. There was a difference of 172 pounds in the case of open-pollinated and 69 pounds for strains of hybrid.

Even though the problem of hybrid versus open-pollinated corn has ceased to be a problem, Professor Fairbanks concluded that strains of hybrid and strains of open-pollinated corn may vary as much within their respective classes as any one hybrid would vary from any one open-pollinated variety.

To Him Who Waits

Four years ago some customers walked out of Mrs. Charles Willman's luncheon in Belleville, Ill., with four silver spoons. She deplored the loss, because they were a wedding present. Recently a stranger came in and handed her three of the spoons. He said he would mail the fourth from Oklahoma.

Fort Loramie Pastor Hurt In Auto Mishap

Minor Injuries Incurred By Rev. Moeller Enroute To St. Clare Convent

Rev. Anthony Moeller, pastor of the St. Michael church here, and two companions, priests of the St. Charles seminary at Carthage, Mo., received minor injuries early Monday in an automobile mishap, when enroute to the St. Clare convent at Hartwell, Cincinnati.

Rev. Moeller suffered facial cuts and a sprained wrist. Rev. Ulrich Mueller of the St. Charles seminary at Carthage, Mo., suffered a broken ankle, and Rev. Rosenbauer, also of the seminary, incurred chest injuries.

The priests, who returned to their homes after receiving first aid treatment, had planned attending ceremonies at the convent Monday morning in which two young women of Ft. Loramie and another of Carthage were to take vows.

FIRST CLUB MEETING

Mrs. Emerson Rudy, the first to entertain the five hundred card club of which she is a member for the fall season, proved a charming hostess when the club group gathered at her home last Friday evening. Present were Mesdames Edison Maurer, Elmer Vogelsang, Albert Bruken, Frank Schulze, Ralph Vogel-sang, William Raterman, Clarence Ernst, Bernard Busse, Leo Inderrieden, Bernard Middendorf, Lawrence Albers, William Borchers and the hostess. Honors were awarded to Mrs. Elmer Vogelsang, Mrs. Edison Maurer and Mrs. Lawrence Albers.

The Ft. Loramie school band will participate in the Holy Name parade which will be held in Sidney.

Starting Monday, Sept. 20, the Busse Meat Market will close every Monday and Thursday at 6 p. m.

Mary Ida Zimmermann, a delegate to the 4-H club congress, left Monday for Columbus to attend a 4-H club meeting which will be held until Friday.

Topp and daughter Lucille, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Otte, Mrs. Lizzie Mader, of New Bremen; and Mr. and Mrs. Nat Hackman, Miss Ella Schmieder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hackman, of Cincinnati. Many others who were invited were unable to attend.

Carthage Girl Weds Guadalupe Resident

St. Aloysius' church at Carthage was the scene of a pretty wedding at 8 a. m. last Saturday when Miss Mildred Luthman, daughter of Julius Luthman of Carthage, became the bride of Ado Niekamp, son of Joe Niekamp of Guadalupe. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Rev. Ulrich Mueller, who heard the exchange of the vows and read the double-ring service. The bridal party included Miss Virginia Marx as bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Koenig, maid of honor, and Andrew Luthman, best man.

The bride wore for her wedding an attractive dirndl gown of white satin. The square neckline was set off by a yellow gold necklace and the short sleeves were puffed to the elbow. Long velvet streamers fell to the hemline of the gown. A seed pearl tiara held the fingertip length veil in place and the bridal bouquet was composed of lilies and asters.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length gowns of moire taffeta fashioned similarly with sweetheart necklines and short puffed sleeves. Sweetheart bonnets of maline matched their gowns, and they carried roses and glads. Miss Koenig's costume was in light blue while Miss Marx wore rose.

The bridegroom and best man wore dark blue suits and white boutonnieres.

An all-day celebration at the home of the bridegroom's parents was attended by 125 relatives and friends, and a dance at Sharpsburg was held in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Niekamp will reside on a farm near Guadalupe.

North Star Church Is Scene Of Wedding

Simplicity marked the nuptial ceremony uniting Miss Luella Barga, daughter of Victor Barga of North Star, and Theodore Echeman of Sidney, son of the late August Echeman of Russia. The wedding mass took place at 7:30 a. m. last Saturday with the Rev. J. T. Hannahan officiating.

The bride wore a white georgette gown having a long train and lace yoke, and a veil of fingertip length held by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white calla lilies.

Miss Lorena Frossard, niece of the bridegroom, who was the bridesmaid, wore a pink frock fashioned similar to that of the bride. Miss Thelma Barga, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a blue dress similar to that of the bridesmaid. Both attendants of the bride carried bouquets of roses.

Vernon Barga, brother of the bride, was best man. A wedding dinner was served after the ceremony, in the home of the bride. A large tiered wedding cake centered the bridal table, topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. Flowers graced the candle-light tables, and covers were placed for about 100 invited guests.

The couple left late in the afternoon for a wedding trip through the southern states. Mrs. Echeman wore for traveling a purple velvet dress with accessories also of deep purple.

Celebrate Fifth Wedding Anniversary

Relatives and friends gathered recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Bensman, near St. Patricks, to help celebrate their fifth wedding anniversary. Cards were the evening's diversion, and high scores were held by Miss Adele Bornhorst and Norbert Bensman, while Mrs. Louis Bornhorst and Lester Bornhorst were consoled. Mr. and Mrs. Bensman were presented with a rocking chair by the group as a remembrance of the occasion. A tasty lunch was served at a late hour.

Those who helped celebrate the event were: Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bornhorst and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bensman, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sommer, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bornhorst, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Apple, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Borchers, Misses Helen Winner, Henrietta Flaute, Helen Bensman and Adele Bornhorst, Norbert Bensman, Urban Bornhorst, Clarence Schulze and Frederick Bensman.

Birthdays of Rulmann Honored

Mrs. Joseph Schwenzler entertained a number of lady friends at their home on North Cleveland street Tuesday evening, and on this occasion also honored Mrs. Dolores Rulmann on her birthday. The hostess had an entertaining program arranged, and the hours were spent at cards and other amusements. Later a delicious lunch was served.

The following were present: Mrs. Josephine Fischer and her guest, Mrs. William Ellerman of Lima, Misses Corrie Haberbeck, Leona Meyer, Dora Barhorst and Mrs. Rulmann, the hostess, Mrs. Schwenzler, and her daughter, Miss Verona. Mrs. Al Barhorst was unable to attend.

Business As Usual On 52nd Wedding Date

Advancing age apparently means little in the way of hampering activities of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Flaute, probably the oldest married couple in the community of McCartyville.

The venerable pair, enjoying the blessing of excellent health, marked the 52nd anniversary of their wedding on Sept. 3 by carrying for business in the store they have owned many years.

Mr. Flaute, who bought the building wherein he now conducts his store in 1888, and Miss Anna Hakemoller of St. Louis, were married in the Sacred Heart church at McCartyville 52 years ago.

He, now 76, was born Jan. 24, 1865 on the Flaute farm along the Dieters road northwest of the village, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Flaute Sr. He is the last of his family.

Mrs. Flaute, also 76 but six months younger than her husband, was born in Germany July 24, 1865. She came to this country and to St. Louis in 1884, and met Mr. Flaute while on a visit in Minster. Bernard Ortman of here was best man at the wedding.

They have three children, namely John, residing south of McCartyville; Miss Margaret, employed for 23 years by a building and loan firm at Dayton, and Ben Flaute, also of Dayton.

Mr. Flaute was a blacksmith by trade in his youth before buying his present business.

Anthony Ungruhn Is Honored On Birthday

Anthony Ungruhn was pleasantly surprised in his home near St. Rose Sunday afternoon by a group of friends who gathered to remind him of his 62nd birthday anniversary. An enjoyable time was spent, and the guests upon leaving wished Mr. Ungruhn many returns of the day. Those who took part were the following:

Mrs. Anna Tuente, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tuente and family, St. Rose; Mr. and Mrs. John Kleinhenz and daughter Mary, St. Marys; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tuente, Barney Bavendick, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dirksen and son Alvin, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mayo, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Grieshop and family, Osgood; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Riethman and family, Mrs. Agatha Riethman, Minster; Mr. and Mrs. August Riethman and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Berning and family, McCartyville, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Walterbusch and family and Mrs. Anna Walterbusch, Maria Stein.

Birthday Party Is Held Near Osgood

A birthday party was given at the country home of Mrs. Sophia Delzeit, a half-mile west of Osgood, Sunday evening, when a number of guests gathered there to honor Mrs. Delzeit and her mother, Mrs. Adele Buschur of St. Henry, who was a guest there, on the occasion of their birthdays.

Those who could not be present were: Mr. and Mrs. Aloys Buschur and family of Burkettsville and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Buschur and son Dickey of Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Minster Resident Takes Bride At Piqua

Miss Mary Elizabeth Meyer, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Meyer of near Piqua, and Leonard H. Liesner, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Liesner of east of Minster, were married at 8:30 a. m. last Saturday in St. Mary's Catholic church at Piqua. The Rev. Aloys Friederich heard the exchange of vows, performed the nuptial ceremony and officiated during the wedding mass.

For her wedding the bride selected a gown of white brocade satin having a sweetheart neckline, leg-of-mutton sleeves and made princess style. A row of buttons down the length of the back fastened the gown, which had a long train. The veil, of illusion tulle, was held by orange blossoms, and she wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of gardenias and white and tuber roses.

Miss Lucille Schlatter, niece of the bride, was the maid of honor, and Miss Vera Liesner, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. Miss Schlatter wore a dress of pink net over taffeta, made with square neckline, puff sleeves, shirred fullness, and a tight, fitted bodice, making a full, sweeping skirt effective. Her headress was made from pink rose buds and matching ribbons, tied with a bow ending in streamers.

Miss Liesner wore a frock of light blue net over taffeta, made similar to that of the maid of honor and her headress was identical. Both carried colonial bouquets of pink gladioli and blue delphiniums. They wore single strands of pearls, gifts of the bride.

Urban Meyer, brother of the bride, was best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held for 75 guests in the home of the bride's parents, in the home white, pink and blue floral arrangements were used. The parents of the bride and bridegroom received with them, Mrs. Meyer wearing a black and white sheer with matching accessories, and Mrs. Liesner a blue print with dark accessories. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

The wedding cake was three-tiered and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Mr. and Mrs. Liesner have many friends who wish them continued happiness in the home which they have placed in readiness. Mrs. Liesner was before her marriage employed in an office at Sidney. The bridegroom is in the employ of the Minster Machine Co. Guests at the wedding included the following: Dr. and Mrs. Frank S. Downey and family, Sidney; Mr. and

Mrs. Lawrence Meyer and family, Aloysius Meyer, Miss Catharine and Tom Doorley, Mrs. Cecilia Schwartz, Misses Joan and Margaret Weiskittel, Sidney; Mrs. Lizette Strukamp, Cassella; Mrs. Peter J. Schneider and son and family, Norwood; John Brokamp, Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eversman, Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fogt, Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Meyer and family, Vandalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Liesner and son Emil, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Liesner and daughter, Miss Mary Ann Fischer, Miss Lorina Zumbink, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Riethman, Phil Baumer, Miss Alvina Sibert, Virgil Nieter, George Koester, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schlatter and family, Minster; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Middendorf and family, Ft. Loramie; Herman Fischer, Yorkshire, and Mr. and Mrs. Christ Loeffler, Misses Julia, Catherine and Charlotte Loeffler, Piqua.

Miss Alfrida Bensman Marries Dayton Resident

In one of the most impressive of late summer weddings in this community, Miss Alfrida Bensman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bensman residing northeast of Minster, and Harry Bangerter of Dayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bangerter Sr. of that city, were married last Saturday morning.

The Rev. Theodore Koenn officiated during the nuptial ceremony starting at 8:30 a. m. in the St. Augustine church in Minster. He heard the exchange of vows and solemnized the wedding mass in the presence of witnesses to the ceremony and friends and relatives of the popular young couple.

Witnesses to the marriage service were Miss Thelma Hoelle, a friend of the bride, as maid of honor; Miss Esther Bensman, her sister, as bridesmaid, and Joseph O'Bryan, cousin of the bridegroom, as best man.

For this most important day in her life the bride chose to wear a gown of white satin, with a sweetheart neckline and long wrist-pointed sleeves. The gown fastened down the back with a row of tiny buttons and formed a long train. She wore a fingertip veil, held in place by a cluster of orange blossoms on either side, and wore a pearl pin, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a prayerbook with streamers of lilies of the valley and gardenias.

Miss Bensman wore a gown of heather-rose taffeta, with a sweetheart neckline, short puff sleeves, fitted bodice and a full skirt. Her headress was a crown of pink rosebuds and orange gladioli, and matching veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds and orange gladioli.

Miss Hoelle appeared in a gown of twilight green, made exactly the same as that of the bridesmaid. Her headress was a crown of yellow rosebuds and yellow gladioli, with a matching veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow rosebuds and gladioli. Both bridal attendants wore rhinestone bracelets, gifts of the bride.

An all-day wedding celebration was held in the home of the parents of the bride, and in the evening a dance was given in the East Side Country club for the many friends of the couple.

The bride prior to her marriage had a position with the Dayton Pump Co. at Dayton. The bridegroom is in the employ of the White Villa Packing Co. at Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bangerter take the wishes of their many friends of this community for many years of happiness together, to Dayton, where they are establishing their home.

Attend Celebration Held At Dayton

Mrs. Elizabeth Barhorst and daughter Miss Dora and Mr. and Mrs. Al Barhorst, motored to Dayton Sunday where they were guests in the evening at the celebration of Mr. and Mrs.

Donald Leitschuh's fifth wedding anniversary and the 20th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie King.

A delicious evening dinner was served. The evening hours were spent at various amusements. They spent Monday visiting with friends and relatives and returned in the evening.

T. M. T. M. Club Outing Is Held

Members of the T. M. T. M. club recently held their outing at Filburn's Landing, Lake Loramie. At 7 p. m. a delicious chicken dinner, which was prepared by Mrs. Filburn, was enjoyed by the group. Those present were: Mrs. John Stueve and Mrs. Urban Severin, New Bremen; Mrs. Martin Leonard, Piqua; Mrs. Dolores Rulmann, Mrs. Hershel Cull, Mrs. Robert Garman, Mrs. Leona Friemering, Mrs. Oliver Morsey, Mrs. Walter Brinkman, Mrs. Frank Friemering, Mrs. Sylvester Schmieder, Mrs. Joseph Schwenzler, and Misses Dora Barhorst and Leona Meyer of Minster.

New Bremen Girl Is Married In Minster

Miss Hilda Wenning of New Bremen and Charles Axe of St. Marys, were married at 6:15 a. m. last Saturday in the St. Augustine church here, with the Rev. Theodore Koenn hearing the exchange of vows and officiating during the nuptial mass. Witnesses to the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Westerheide of New Bremen.

The bridegroom is now serving with the nation's armed forces, and was home visiting with his parents on a furlough at the time of his marriage.

Ed Ripploh, well-known Minster resident, has opened an up-to-date grocery and meat market at 87 North Main street, in the building formerly occupied by the Nienberg store. Mr. Ripploh is handling a full line of groceries, meats and fruits, and invites Minster residents to visit and inspect his place of business. Mr. Ripploh, whose store is known as the Main Street Market, has his opening advertisement elsewhere on this page.

CCC Establishes School For Uneducated Campers. When an education program for Civilian Conservation corps camps was being established, CCC officials discovered that about three in every 100 camp enrollees were illiterate.

Recently, Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt announced that the new texts had been satisfactorily tried out in a few camps during the last few months and declared they were being made available to educational classes in all camps.

Next Sunday will be the communion Sunday for members of the Junior Holy Name society and the Children of Mary society.

Added interest in the Reds 18 home games is certain to come from the trial Bill McKechnie will give some of the young men who have graduated from the Reds' farm clubs.

At Birmingham Sauer played first base, but McKechnie plans to convert him into an outfielder, as this is the greatest need of the Reds.

A fellow with great sock naturally draws most of the attention, which is probably the reason why most eyes are focused on Sauer.

OWLS BATS QUIETED BY IMPORTED FIREBALLER
The Owls were defeated the second time this year, by a team comprised of stars of western-southern Mercer county, 5 to 3, Sunday. Sharpsburg's regular pitcher was on the sidelines, as the Speeds imported from the Ft. Recovery team. Fuller, a speed artist who gave but nine hits in 13 innings. Leugers pitched the entire distance for the Owls, but became tired in later innings and was nicked for 16 snafus.

The Owls drew blood first in the second when H. Leugers drove a base on balls and scored on J. Leugers' long home run to left. In the fifth Sharpsburg tied the score when Koesters doubled and scored on Staugler's single. Ashcraft's single scored Staugler when a wild throw was made to the plate. Ashcraft was out trying second.

The Owls added a run in the sixth when Studer, hit by a pitched ball, advanced on V. Harting's sacrifice and scored on Hein's double. In the eighth two singles and a sacrifice gave Sharpsburg the tying run.

After the eighth it was a tie until the 13th when Sharpsburg scored two runs on successive hits and an error that proved costly.

Ashcraft obtained four hits in six times at the plate. J. Leugers got a home run and single in five times. V. Hartings, who hit safely in every game this season, was stopped.

The Celina Merchants will play the Cassella Owls at the park here Sunday at 2 p. m. The Merchants was the only other team to defeat the Owls this season.
